KARL DORRELL

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

(THIRD SEASON)

UCLA '87

Karl Dorrell, one of the top wide receivers in UCLA history, has spent his first two years at his alma mater building a solid foundation for the future.

In 2004, the Bruins ranked nationally in both total offense (28th) and rushing offense (27th), averaging 410.0 and 184.9 yards per game, respectively. Defensively, UCLA recorded its first shutout of a Pac-10 opponent in 17 years. Linebacker Spencer Havner earned All-America acclaim from several organizations while tight end Mercedes Lewis and senior punter Chris Kluwe were finalists for national position awards. Tailback Maurice Drew set a school record with 322 rushing yards against Washington and senior wide receiver Craig Bragg set the career reception record with 193 catches. UCLA appeared in a bowl game for the second time in Dorrell's two-year tenure (Pioneer PureVision Las Vegas Bowl) and finished with a record of 6-6.

In 2003, the Bruins won six of their first eight games and played in the Silicon Valley Football Classic. Although the Bruins finished with a record of 6-7, there were numerous highlights along the way. Senior defensive end Dave Ball tied for the national lead in quarterback sacks, earned unanimous All-America honors and was selected Chevrolet National Defensive Player of the Year. Linebacker Brandon Chillar led the Pacific-10 Conference in tackles. Wide receiver Craig Bragg made 73 receptions, tied for the third-highest total in UCLA history. As a team, UCLA's defense ranked 18th nationally and second in the Pac-10 in total defense (317.6 yards), allowed just 27 touchdowns in 13 games, tied for the Pac-10 lead, and allowed a league-low 15 touchdown passes.

Dorrell was hired as UCLA's 15th head coach on December 18, 2002 and introduced as the Bruins' new head coach the following day.

Dorrell came to UCLA from the Denver Broncos, where he was in his third year as the coach of the wide receivers. His record-setting receivers played very well during his time with the club.

In 2001, Dorrell faced the challenge of replacing Pro Bowl veteran Ed McCaffrey after a season-ending injury in Week 1, and not only saw Rod Smith catch a franchise-record 113 passes, but also implemented many young players into the Broncos scheme while working through a variety of other injuries that affected playing time.

Though it was a trying season in that regard, Dorrell's tutelage allowed the club to glimpse the young talent it had assembled, as those players gained experience that will pay future dividends. Smith earned his second Pro Bowl invitation, and led the NFL in receptions while ranking sixth in receiving yards.

In Dorrell's first season in Denver (2000), his receiving corps played an integral role in elevating the overall offensive unit to franchise records in total yards, passing yards and first downs. McCaffrey and Smith took their performance to new levels that year, as Smith earned the first Pro Bowl selection of his six-year career while shattering the franchise record with 1,602 receiving yards and tying the previous record with 100 receptions. McCaffrey had the most productive season of his 10-year career by catching a franchise-record 101 passes for 1,317 yards, now third-best behind Smith's 1,602. Both finished in the NFL's top four in receptions and in the top 10 in receiving yards.

Smith's 1,602 yards tied for the eighth-highest single-season total in NFL history, while the duo became just the second pair from the same team ever to post 100 more catches in the same season. Smith and McCaffrey were virtually unstoppable with 13 100-yard games between them.

Prior to his arrival in Denver, Dorrell coached 12 years on the collegiate level, including seven seasons as an offensive coordinator. In his career as a player and coach, Dorrell has participated in 13 previous bowl games, including three Rose Bowls, two Fiesta Bowls and two Cotton Bowls.

Dorrell spent the 1999 season at the University of Washington, serving as offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. In his one season at the school, the Huskies led the Pac-10 in time of possession with an average of 32:57 per game, and scored 28.3 points per game.

He assisted the Broncos coaching staff during training camp in both 1993 and '99 through the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship program, and was offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach at the University of Colorado from 1995-98, after a stint as wide receivers coach from 1992-93.

During his first tenure at CU, two of Dorrell's wide receivers, Charles Johnson and Michael Westbrook, became just the fourth pair of receivers on the same team in NCAA history to accumulate more than 1,000 yards in the same season. Johnson and Westbrook are two of the six collegiate receivers Dorrell has coached who have gone on to play in the NFL — three of whom were first-round draft choices.

Dorrell began his coaching career in 1988 as a graduate assistant at UCLA. The Bruins were 10-2 that season, winning the Cotton Bowl. His other coaching stops include Central Florida (1989; receivers), Northern Arizona (1990-91; offensive coordinator/receivers) and Arizona State (1994; wide receivers). In his first experience as an offensive coordinator, Dorrell made his mark at NAU, directing the Lumberjack offense to a school record for first downs in a season, and the second-highest total offense figure in school history.

Dorrell earned his bachelor's degree from UCLA following the 1986 season. He completed his playing career ranked second (tied) in school history in receptions (108) and fourth in receiving yards (1,517). His 108 receptions still rank ninth (tied) on that career list while his 1,517 yards rank 14th. He also played on teams that won three Rose Bowls — following the 1982, 1983 and 1985 seasons — and the 1986 Freedom Bowl.

As a true sophomore in 1983, he made 26 receptions for 390 yards and six touchdowns. In the 45-9 Rose Bowl victory over Illinois, he made five catches for 61 yards and two touchdowns (15 and 16 yards). He missed most of the following season due to a shoulder injury and was granted an additional year of eligibility. As a junior in 1985, he led all Bruin receivers with 39 receptions for 565 yards and one touchdown. As a senior, he was second to Flipper Anderson with 35 receptions for 451 yards and two touchdowns.

He had a brief professional career, spending part of the 1987 season with the Dallas Cowboys before being placed on injured reserve.

Dorrell, who was born in Alameda, CA on Dec. 18, 1963, is a graduate of San Diego's Helix High School, where he was a two-time all-league selection and honorable mention All-America as a senior. He led Helix to the CIF San Diego Section title in 1980 and to second place in 1981.

Karl and his wife, Kim, have two children, Chandler and Lauren.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Dino Babers (Hawaii '84) - Wide Receivers

Dino Babers is in his second season as coach of the Bruin wide receivers. In 2004, Craig Bragg became UCLA's career receiving leader and Junior Taylor enjoyed his best season as a Bruin. Babers, who owns a diverse collegiate resume, has coached in the Pacific-10, Big 12, Big Ten, Big East and Western Athletic conferences. In 2003, he served as running backs coach at the University of Pittsburgh. In 2001 and 2002, Babers, 43, served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Texas A&M.

Prior to Texas A&M, Babers was an assistant with the Arizona Wildcats for six seasons (1995-2000) under Dick Tomey, coaching the receivers (1995-96), running backs (1997) and quarterbacks (1998-2000). He assumed the duties of assistant head coach for the 1996-97 seasons before being promoted to the offensive coordinator post, which he held from 1998-2000. During his Arizona tenure, the Wildcats averaged a Pac-10 best 471.9 yards in total offense during the 1999 season, ranking third nationally in that category. In his first year as offensive coordinator (1998), Arizona compiled a record of 12-1 and produced a 1,000-yard rusher, two 1,000-yard passers and a pair of receivers who combined for 121 receptions. Among Babers' star pupils at Arizona were receiver Dennis Northcutt, now of the Cleveland Browns, and tailback Trung Canidate, now of the Washington Redskins. Northcutt holds the school records for season (1999) and career all-purpose yards. As quarterbacks coach, he worked with Keith Smith and Ortege Jenkins.

Babers' other coaching posts include positions at San Diego State (1994, receivers), Purdue (1991-93, receivers), Northern Arizona (1990, special teams coordinator and defensive backs), UNLV (1988-89, special teams coordinator and running backs) and Eastern Illinois (1987, running backs). Babers graduated from the University of Hawaii in 1984 with a bachelor's degree in education. He started at three different positions for the Warriors — outside linebacker, strong safety and running back — and earned first-team All-WAC Academic honors. As a senior he was Hawaii's special teams captain. He played in the Canadian Football League during the 1984 season before injury ended his playing career. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Hawaii (1984) and Arizona State (1985-86).

Eric Bieniemy (Colorado '01) - Running Backs/Recruiting

Eric Bieniemy is in his third season as UCLA running backs coach after spending the previous two seasons as running backs coach at his alma mater, Colorado. Last year, Maurice Drew set a UCLA record with 322 rushing yards at Washington and established himself as one of the most explosive performers in college football.

In 2003, Drew earned third-team Freshman All-America honors as a kick returner/running back. During the 2002 season, Colorado ranked ninth in the NCAA in team rushing with 232.8 yards on the ground per game. Tailback Chris Brown ranked third in the nation with a 153.4 yards per game average. Bieniemy had a tremendous impact right from the start in his first year on the Colorado staff, as the Buffs finished eighth in the nation in rushing, averaging 228.5 yards per game. The tailbacks and fullbacks combined for 2,620 yards, the most yards out of all the running back positions in college for 2001.

Bieniemy's footprints are still all over the CU record book, as he remains the school's all-time leader in rushing (3,940 yards), all-purpose yards (4,351), touchdowns (42) and scoring (254 points). He was the nation's second leading rusher in 1990 with 1,628 yards, when he finished third in the Heisman Trophy balloting that year. His most memorable game was at Nebraska in 1990, as he overcame five fumbles in the first three quarters to score four fourth quarter touchdowns in leading CU to a 27-12 win that put CU in the driver's seat for a second straight Big Eight title as well as on the road to the school's first national championship in football.

In 1990, Bieiemy, 35, earned unanimous All-America honors and was a two-time first-team all Big-Eight performer, in 1988 and in 1990, earning the conference's offensive player-of-the-year honor as a senior. As a junior, he was named to CU's prestigious 25-member "All-Century Football Team," the only active player at the time to be selected to the group honoring the first 100 years of Buffalo football.

Tom Cable (Idaho '86) - Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line

Tom Cable is in his second season as UCLA's offensive coordinator and coach of the offensive line. A year ago, the line showed great improvement and the offense was ranked No. 28 in the nation (410.0 yards per game).

Cable, 41, spent the previous four seasons (2000-2003) as head coach at the University of Idaho, his alma mater. In 2003, he also coached the offensive line. During Cable's tenure at Idaho, his teams ran the West Coast Offense and averaged 424.1 yards of total offense (19,510 yards in 46 games). Idaho ranked sixth nationally in 2001 with 464.8 yards, eighth nationally in 2000 with 453.2 yards and 27th nationally in 2002 with 404.6 yards. The Vandals averaged 379.75 yards in 2003.

Prior to becoming head coach at his alma mater prior to the 2000 season, he spent two years at the University of Colorado. In 1998, he served as offensive line coach for Rick Neuheisel, working with offensive coordinator Karl Dorrell. In 1999, he was promoted to offensive coordinator by head coach Gary Barnett and worked with tight end coach Jon Embree, now UCLA's assistant head coach. Under his direction, the Buffaloes' offense was ranked 14th in the nation, averaging 424.9 yards per game. Colorado won the Insight.com Bowl that year, scoring 62 points and compiling 523 yards against Boston College. Guard Brad Bedell earned first-team All-American honors that season under Cable.

Cable spent six seasons (1992-97) as offensive line coach at the University of California, working for Keith Gilbertson, now head coach of the Washington Huskies; Steve Mariucci, current head coach of the Detroit Lions; and Tom Holmoe. He produced four first-team All-Pac-10 selections, including first-team All-America and two-time All-Pac-10 performer Todd Steussie, who was also voted the Pac-10's top lineman in 1993. He began his coaching career at his alma mater, serving as a graduate assistant for Gilbertson at Idaho in 1987 and 1988. He then served as a graduate assistant at San Diego State in 1989. From there, he went to Cal State Fullerton, where he was the defensive line coach in 1990. His next stop was UNLV, where he coached the offensive line for one year (1991) before moving to California.

During his career, Cable has coached five All-Americans, eight All-Pac 10 players and two Big 12 players.

Cable, a 6-3, 270-pound offensive lineman, played four years for the Dennis Erickson teams that launched the rebirth of Idaho football in 1982. After a four-year career – three as a starting guard – for the Vandals, Cable spent one season as a free agent with the Indianapolis Colts before beginning his coaching career.

Gary DeLoach (Howard Payne '76) - Secondary/Cornerbacks

Gary DeLoach is in his third season on the Bruin staff. This season, he will oversee the secondary and coach the cornerbacks. He coached corners and safeties in 2003 and 2004. In 2003, the Bruin defense ranked 18th nationally and second in the Pac-10 (317.6 yards) and allowed a league-low 15 touchdown passes. Prior to coming to UCLA, DeLoach served as defensive coordinator for three years (2000-02) at North Texas and secondary coach for five (1998-02).

During the 2002 regular season, North Texas State led the Sun Belt Conference in total defense, rushing defense, passing defense and scoring defense. Nationally, North Texas was third in scoring defense (14.8 points), ninth in total defense (290.6 yards), 12th in passing defense (171.7) and 26th in rushing defense (118.9). The Mean Green allowed over 310 yards total offense just three times all season.

In addition, six North Texas defenders were selected first-team All-Sun Belt Conference, including defensive backs Don McGee and Craig Jones. In his five years as the secondary coach, six different defensive backs earned first team all-conference. In 2001, Jonas Buckles earned first-team all-conference honors after ranking fifth nationally and first in the Sun Belt Conference in interceptions. In 2001, the Mean Green defense led the Sun Belt in rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense.

DeLoach, 50, went to North Texas in 1998 after serving as defensive coordinator for national JUCO champion Trinity Valley of Athens, TX and coaching in the World League with the Frankfurt Galaxy in 1997. He previously worked as an assistant coach (defensive coordinator, 1990-94) at New Mexico State for seven years from 1990 to 96, spent three seasons as secondary coach at Texas A&M (1980-82) and seven years at Stephen F. Austin (defensive coordinator and secondary coach, 1983-89). He began his college coaching career as a graduate assistant and then part-time assistant at Stephen F. Austin (1976-78).

Jon Embree (Colorado '87) - Assistant Head Coach/Tight Ends

Jon Embree is his third season as UCLA's assistant head coach. This is his second year coaching the tight ends after working with the receivers in 2003. Last season, Mercedes Lewis made seven touchdown receptions and was one of three finalists (the only one returning) for the John Mackey (national quarterback) Award.

Embree came to UCLA from Colorado, where he was a standout player and an assistant coach for the 10 seasons prior to coming to UCLA. In 2003, wide receiver Craig Bragg made 73 receptions in 13 games, tying for No. 3 on the school's single-season reception list.

Embree coached the tight ends during his first two seasons at CU before moving to defense to work with the ends in the first year of Rick Neuheisel's tenure as head coach in 1995. He returned to coaching tight ends under head coach Gary Barnett in 1999. In January of 2001, Embree took charge of the wide receiver position and also coordinated the practice routine for the placekickers. He also played a pivotal role in many of CU's outstanding recruiting successes over the years.

Embree, 39, lettered four seasons (1983-86) as a tight end at Colorado. He ended his career in the top five in both career receptions (80) and yards (1,116) along with scoring five touchdowns. His 1,116 yards rank as the second most by a tight end in CU history, while his 80 catches are still fourth among all ends.

He was first team All-Big Eight and set school records with 51 receptions for 680 yards in 1984. Even though CU abandoned a passing offense for the wishbone in his junior year, he was a sixth-round draft choice by the Los Angeles Rams in the 1987 NFL Draft. He spent two years with the Rams (1987-88), playing in 13 games, and concluded his career in 1989 with the Seattle Seahawks, as an injury ended his pro career.

He has coached several top players, including all-Big Eight performer Christian Fauria, now with the National Football League's New England Patriots. Several others have gone on to the NFL, including Daniel Graham, who he tutored his sophomore and junior seasons and watched break several of his own CU tight end records in 2001.

Thurmond Moore (San Jose State '77) - Defensive Line

Thurmond Moore is in his first season as coach of the Bruin defensive line, joining the staff in February. He has extensive experience on the defensive side of the ball and coached two members of the 2005 AFC Pro Bowl squad — Indianapolis' Dwight Freeney and Pittsburgh's Joey Porter — as collegians. In 2004, Moore served as cornerbacks coach for the University of Tulsa. In his one season, the Golden Hurricane ranked 22nd nationally in pass defense, allowing just 191.3 yards per game, and cornerback Jermaine Hope was a second-team All-WAC selection.

Moore spent the previous three seasons (2001-2003) as the defensive coordinator at the University of Buffalo. In his first season at Buffalo, Moore guided one of the biggest defensive turnarounds in the nation in 2001. A year later, his Bulls' defense set a Division I-A school-high with 27 sacks, a figure that ranked near the top of the Mid-American Conference (MAC).

Prior to his stint at Buffalo, Moore helped the Syracuse defense earn national recognition during his two years (1999-2000) coaching the Orange defensive line and Pro Bowl performer Dwight Freeney. Syracuse placed among the nation's top 20 in total defense in both the 1999 and 2000 seasons, finishing 14th (301.2 yards per game) in 1999 and 18th (311.91) in 2000. In addition, the Orange racked up 61 sacks over that span (30 in 1999 and 31 in 2000). Prior to arriving at Syracuse, Moore was the defensive line coach for two seasons (1997-98) at Colorado State and coached Pro Bowler Joey Porter and Clark Haggans, both starters for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Moore, 49, also worked as defensive line coach at his alma mater San Jose State (1996-97) and had previous coaching stints at North Texas (1995), Utah State (1994), Northern Arizona (1989-93), Delaware State (1986-88), Wyoming (1986), California (1983-85) and Cal State Sacramento (1980-82). He has coached several NFL players, such as Freeney, Porter, Haggans, Hardy Nickerson (California), Eric Downing (Syracuse) and Adrian Ross (Colorado State), at the collegiate level.

Larry Kerr (San Jose State '75) - Defensive Coordinator/Inside Linebackers

Larry Kerr, who had spent the previous 10 seasons as defensive coordinator at Colorado State University, is in his third season as UCLA's defensive coordinator/inside linebackers coach. In 2003, UCLA ranked 18th nationally and second in the Pac-10 to Oregon State in total defense and tied for the Pac-10 lead in fewest defensive touchdowns allowed (27 in 13 games). Senior linebacker Brandon Chillar recorded 127 tackles, the ninth-highest total in school history.

During Kerr's 10 years at CSU, the Ram defense led the conference in total defense twice, was second once and third in another season. The Rams played in seven bowl games and won six conference championships.

In 2002, CSU compiled a record of 10-4, won the Mountain West Conference, played in the Liberty Bowl and ranked fourth in the league in total defense. Four CSU defenders were selected All-Mountain West Conference first or second team. He was also a nominee for the Frank Broyles Assistant Coach of the Year Award. In 2000, linebacker Rick Crowell was named Conference Defensive Player of the Year, the second time a Rams' player had been so honored during Kerr's tenure. Overall, Kerr coached seven first-team all-conference players. In addition, Eric Pauly was named a second-team Academic All-American in 2001.

Kerr, 51, went to Colorado State after having spent three seasons (1990-92) as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at Northern Arizona. During those first two years, Karl Dorrell was the Lumberjacks' offensive coordinator.

In 1989, Kerr served as inside linebackers coach and special teams coordinator at UCLA under Terry Donahue. He spent the six previous seasons (1983-88) serving in that same capacity at Stanford. Prior to coaching with the Cardinal, he served as the inside linebackers coach at San Jose State (1980-83).

Brian Schneider (Colorado State '94) - Special Teams/Safeties

Brian Schneider is in his third season as a member of the Bruin coaching staff. This will be his second season coaching all of UCLA's special teams units and he will also coach the safeties. In 2004, punter Chris Kluwe was a finalist for the Ray Guy Award, presented annually to the nation's top punter, and Justin Medlock was named first-team All-Pac-10. In 2004, he served as coach of the outside linebackers and nickel backs, as well as all of the special teams. In 2003, he coached the punt and punt return units and the outside linebackers and nickel backs. He came to UCLA after serving the previous six seasons as tight ends and special teams coordinator at Colorado State. During his tenure at CSU, the Rams excelled in special teams play. He coached eight all-conference special teams or tight end performers.

In 2002, Dexter Wynn ranked fifth nationally in punt returns and 12th in kickoff returns. In 2001, Wynn and Pete Rebstock both ranked among the national leaders in returns while Joey Huber was among the national leaders in punting average. Place kicker Kent Naughton had one of the top field goal percentage marks in 2001 in school history. In 1998, place kicker Derek Franz set the school's season scoring record and the record for most field goals in a season. Franz ranked first in the league and fifth nationally in field goals per game. In 1999, punter Deone Horinek ranked eighth nationally.

Schneider, 33, spent three seasons (1994-96), as a graduate assistant coach at Colorado State, working with the team's defensive unit and special teams prior to moving to full-time status in 1997. He was a three-year starter as a linebacker from 1990-93 at Colorado State. As a senior in 1993, he was named first-team all-conference and was an honorable mention All-American. He was a second-team all-league choice in 1992. Schneider still ranks among the school's career leaders in total tackles.

Jim Svoboda (Northwestern (IA) College '83) - Quarterbacks

Jim Svoboda, a past winner of the Division II Offensive Coordinator of the Year award, is in his second season as UCLA's quarterbacks coach. A year ago, Drew Olson tossed 20 touchdown passes and accounted for over 2,500 hundred. He came to UCLA after spending the previous 10 seasons as the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Northwest Missouri State University in Maryville, MO. During his time at NWMSU, the Bearcats won national championships in 1998 and 1999 while his offensive units ranked among the most potent in NCAA Division II and in the MIAA (Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletic Association) conference.

Svoboda's 1998 and 2000 offensive units led all of Division II in scoring. In 2000, the Bearcat offense topped the nation by scoring 537 points, averaging 48.8 points per game. The squad also ranked third nationally in total offense with a mark of 492.4 yards a game. In 1998, the Bearcats averaged conference-best marks of 46.4 points and 482.4 yards per contest and won 15 games. The passing average of 283.3 yards per game also led the league that season. Svoboda was selected the 1998 Division II Offensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Coach Magazine.

NWMSU had final national rankings of 2nd, 3rd, 2nd, 4th and 1st between 1996 and 2000 with a record of 63-5 and five MIAA conference titles. In a six-year span (1996 and 2001), his offenses averaged over 40 points and 450 yards of total offense. He won six different conference championships with four different quarterbacks and a pair of national championships with different signal callers. In October of 2000, quarterback Travis Miles set an NCAA record by completing 21 of 23 passes for 305 yards, including 18 consecutive completions. His efficiency rating of 182.4 ranked 14th all-time in Division II (entering the 2003 season). Quarterback Chris Greisen (1995-98) ranks 12th all-time in career passing efficiency for Division II (150.9).

Prior to joining the staff at Northwest Missouri, Svoboda was the head coach and offensive coordinator at Nebraska Wesleyan University. He compiled a 52-19 record (.732 winning percentage) in seven seasons at Wesleyan from 1987-93 and established over 30 team and individual offensive records. He was named the Nebraska-Iowa Athletic Conference Coach of the Year following the 1988, 1989 and 1990 seasons and his teams were ranked among the nation's top five in the 1990, 1991 and 1992 campaigns. Svoboda, a 1983 graduate of Northwestern (IA) College (he played running back), has also served as running backs coach at Eastern New Mexico University (1985-86), assistant football coach at Nebraska Wesleyan (1986), offensive line/strength coach at Dana College (1984-85) and running backs coach at his alma mater (1983). He earned a Master's of Science from Eastern New Mexico in 1986.

Bob Lopez (Illinois State '76) - Football Operations

Bob Lopez is in his third year as director of football operations. He was hired in January of 2003 and oversees the administrative side of the UCLA football program.

Lopez came to UCLA from the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, where he had served as executive director of enrollment services and director of admissions since April of 2001. At UW-Eau Claire he played a lead role in the design, development, implementation and management of a comprehensive and integrated enrollment services program. He was in charge of admissions and recruitment services for traditional and non-traditional undergraduate students among other duties.

Prior to entering the college admissions field, Lopez spent 14 years coaching football at the high school, junior college and college levels. He played quarterback at Illinois State University from 1972-76, starting his last two seasons.

Lopez began his career as a high school teacher and later became director of admissions and athletics at Fort Scott (KS) Community College. From 1987-1998, he held several positions at Northern Arizona University, including recruiting coordinator and assistant coach, and program coordinator in the Counseling and Testing Center and in the Office of Admissions. He was assistant director of admissions at Northern Arizona from 1994-98 and was marketing manager for Southwest Student Services Corp., Mesa, AZ, for one year. In 1999, he moved to Peru (NE) State College as director of enrollment management.

2005 UCLA SPRING OUTLOOK

A year ago, UCLA continued its building process, showing huge gains in the areas of rushing, passing and special teams while continuing to lay the foundation for the program's future successes on defense.

In a year's time, the Bruins improved their rushing, passing and special teams play while a young defensive unit made steady progress. In 2004, UCLA rushed for 2,219 yards (184.9 avg.) and 18 touchdowns in 12 games. The previous season, the Bruins totaled 1,195 yards (91.9 avg.) and 11 touchdowns. The '04 Bruins recorded 22 touchdown passes for the season, almost doubling the total of the previous year (12). UCLA's net punting average of 40.7 was up from the 2003 mark of 36.5.

On defense it was a season for gaining experience as 26 players either made their first career starts or saw their first varsity action in 2004. Eleven of those players made their first career starts on that side of the ball in the first three games of the season. Over the balance of the year, four more would make their initial defensive starts. In all, nine redshirt freshmen, six true freshmen and three junior college transfers saw their first Division I action on defense in 2004.

The offense averaged 6.0 yards per play, its best since the 1998 season (6.81). Its average of 410.0 yards per game was its highest since the 1998 team compiled an average of 487.25. Its scoring average of 30.1 was its best since the '98 team put 39.7 points per game on the board.

UCLA returns 17 starters from the 2004 team — seven on offense and nine on defense, plus its placekicker — to form the nucleus of the 2005 Bruin squad. On offense, the returnees include tight end Mercedes Lewis, Mackey Award finalist who led the team with seven touchdown catches; wide receiver Junior Taylor, tied for second on the team in 2004 with 32 receptions; tailback Maurice Drew, who led the team in rushing with 1,007 yards and ranked 17th nationally in all-purpose yards; quarterback Drew Olson, who started all 12 games, but underwent knee surgery in January and will miss Spring Practice; and three offensive linemen -- center Mike McCloskey, tackle Ed Blanton and guard Shannon Tevaga.

On defense, the returning starters include All-America linebacker Spencer Havner, who led the Pac-10 in tackles with 125 stops and was a semifinalist for the Butkus and Lombardi Awards; linebacker Justin London who battled early-season injuries to finish tied for fourth on the team with 57 tackles; safety Jarrad Page, who was second on the squad with 79 tackles and tied for the team lead in interceptions; linebacker Wesley Walker, who tied for fourth on the squad with 57 tackles; cornerback Trey Brown, who finished seventh on the team in tackles; and four defensive linemen -- Kevin Brown, Justin Hickman, Kyle Morgan and C. J. Niusulu. Place kicker Justin Medlock, a semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award, and snapper Riley Jondle also return for the 2005 season.

Other key returnees include tailback Chris Markey, the team's third leading rusher (350 yards) and top kickoff returner (22.2 yards per return); wide receivers Joe Cowan, Brandon Breazell and Marcus Everett; fullback Michael Pitre, who caught 10 passes; guard Robert Cleary; linebacker Aaron Whittington; defensive backs Marcus Cassel, Eric McNeal, Rodney Van, Chris Horton and Dennis Keyes; defensive linemen Brigham Harwell and Bruce Davis; and special teams standout Michael Norris.

Key losses from last season include running back Manuel White; wide receivers Craig Bragg, UCLA's all-time receiving leader with 193 catches, and Tab Perry, the all-time school leader in kickoff returns; offensive guard Steven Vieira, a four-year starter; offensive tackle Paul Mociler; cornerback Matt Clark, a first-team All-Pac-10 selection; safety Ben Emanuel, third on the team in tackles in 2004; and punter Chris Kluwe (fifth nationally in net punting and a Ray Guy Award finalist).

"The staff and the players are eager to get started," said head coach Karl Dorrell. "We still have a lot of hard work ahead of us as we continue to build the program. There is a solid foundation in place and we are going in the right direction.

"Defensively, we now have some valuable experience on our side. Steady progress was made on that side of the ball through the course of the season. There was marked improvement in the quality and consistency of play from our front seven toward the end of the season. We have the players in our program who can execute successfully and coaches who can maximize our players' potential.

"Offensively, we made measurable progress from our first-year totals and are very excited about our offensive possibilities in 2005. Our coaching staff and players have years of experience together in the system which will allow us to continue to improve our productivity," said Dorrell.

UCLA will again face a challenging schedule. The Bruins open the season Sept. 3 at San Diego State before returning to Pasadena for four straight home contests. Rice and Oklahoma will be in the Rose Bowl on Sept. 10 and 17, respectively. On Oct. 1, UCLA opens Pac-10 play against Washington and on Oct. 8 California comes to Pasadena.

Four of the last six games of the 2005 season will be on the road. The Bruins travel to Washington State (Oct. 15), Stanford (Oct. 29), Arizona (Nov. 5) and USC (Dec. 3). Oregon State (Oct. 22-homecoming) and Arizona State (Nov. 12) will come to the Rose Bowl. Overall, UCLA will face five schools that played in bowl games.

Here is a look at the Bruins entering Spring Practice, which begins on February 22 and concludes on March 15.

OFFENSE

Seven starters, plus several other performers who have started games, give the Bruins an excellent experience level in many key areas. The improvement on the field was evident in all areas of the offense last season.

QUARTERBACK

Senior DREW OLSON'S (6-3, 217) prospects for the 2005 season are somewhat in doubt as he continues to rehabilitate from the major knee surgery he underwent in January. The surgery repaired two damaged ligaments in his left knee, injured during the second quarter of the bowl game versus Wyoming.

A year ago, Olson started all 12 games and began to take the next step. On the year, he completed 196 of 341 passes

2005 UCLA SPRING OUTLOOK

(57.5%) for 2,565 yards, 20 touchdowns and 13 interceptions. He ranked fourth in the Pac-10 in passing efficiency (132.39) and his 20 touchdown passes ranked fifth on UCLA's all-time single-season list. Only Cade McNown (25 in 1998 and 24 in 1997), Troy Aikman (24 in 1988) and Tom Ramsey (21 in 1982) have thrown for more scores in a single season. Olson's 2,671 yards of total offense ranked sixth on that single-season list.

During the 2004 season, Olson tied a school record with eight touchdown passes in a two-game span. He has 26 career starts in his three previous seasons at UCLA and has appeared in 33 games overall. His career total of 422 completions ranks No. 4 in UCLA history. In addition, his 5,334 passing yards rank No. 5 on that UCLA list. He also ranks No. 7 in career total offense (5,174 yards).

It is hoped that his rehabilitation process will have accelerated his level of health to the point where he can take part in summer workouts and have a chance to be ready for action in Fall camp. Olson possesses outstanding leadership qualities and demonstrated continued growth in his knowledge of the offensive system during the course of the 2004 campaign.

Senior DAVID KORAL (6-3, 218) gained valuable game experience coming off the bench for Olson in Las Vegas Bowl against Wyoming. He completed seven of 12 passes for 89 yards, including touchdowns of 17 and 25 yards to Craig Bragg. The pass attempts and completions were the first of his Bruin career. He had seen earlier action in the games against Arizona and Stanford, but had not attempted a pass.

Koral entered UCLA in January of 2004, transferring from Santa Monica College. During the 2003 season, he completed 155 of 281 passes (55.2%) for 2,202 yards, 18 touchdowns and six interceptions and was ranked the No. 8 junior college quarterback in the nation. As a prep senior at Palisades High in 2000, he was ranked No. 6 among quarterbacks in the West and earned All-America honors from PrepStar magazine. He passed for 4,057 yards and 44 touchdowns as a senior and threw for 4,902 yards, including a national prep record 764 yards in a game versus Van Nuys Grant, and 57 touchdowns as a junior.

Fourth-year junior walk-on BRIAN CALLAHAN (6-0, 191) will also compete for playing time. A very intelligent young man who possesses a vast football background (his father is the head coach at the University of Nebraska), he served as a backup the past two years but has not yet appeared in a game.

Redshirt freshman PATRICK COWAN (6-4, 210), who earned All-Region honors at St. John Bosco High in 2003, joined the program last August. He spent the 2004 season running the scout teams during the practice sessions and has shown a rapid level of development. As a prep senior, he threw for 1,101 yards and five touchdowns in a run-oriented offense. He is the brother of junior wide receiver Joe Cowan.

Redshirt freshman BEN OLSON (6-5, 235) figures to get a long look from the coaching staff during Spring Practice. B. Olson entered UCLA this past January. Olson has been on a school mission for the past two years after redshirting as a true freshman in 2002 at BYU. He has not seen action in a competitive game since his senior prep season in 2001 at Thousand Oaks, CA High School. Coming out of high school at that time, he was considered the top signal caller in the nation. During his prep career, he completed 421 of 702 passes for 6,401 yards and 54 touchdowns. As a senior in 2001, he threw for 2,989 yards and 32 touchdowns.

Redshirt freshman walkon TYLER HOLLAND (6-4, 210) will also be in the mix. Holland joined practices at the start of classes in the Fall of 2004 and worked on the scout team.

"Drew was a key for us last year," said head coach Karl Dorrell. "We were happy with his growth in the position last season. We did a much better job of putting him in position to be successful and he delivered with some positive results. Some of his numbers compare favorably with the top quarterbacks ever at our school. He will be a good student and teacher of this offense during his rehab process this Spring. We are hopeful that he will continue his maturation and become an even better quarterback when he returns to full health.

"David played well considering it was his first on-field exposure to this offensive system. We expect him to be more comfortable with it the second time around and give us another capable performer at the position. Brian understands the offense extremely well and he will have a chance to compete for a backup role. Patrick showed us last year that he has the physical abilities necessary to be a successful quarterback at this level. He just needs time to refine his skills and gain experience in the system. Ben will certainly get a close look during the Spring. He has been out of competition for an extensive period of time and it will be interesting to see where he is at and try to get him where he needs to be in order to compete for playing time."

RUNNING BACK

Junior MAURICE DREW (5-8, 198) enjoyed a very productive 2004, becoming just the 10th Bruin to rush for at least 1,000 yards (1,007) in a season. A sprained ankle prevented him from perhaps having one of the most outstanding seasons ever by a UCLA running back. Despite missing almost the entire Washington State and USC games and not playing at Oregon, Drew still ranked 17th in the nation and third in the Pac-10 in all-purpose yards (146.0) and also ranked third in the Pac-10 in rushing (91.5). At the time of his injury, he ranked second nationally in all-purpose yards.

Although compact in size, he is a very strong runner with outstanding speed. In the game at Washington, Drew set a school record when he rushed for 322 yards and established another record with five touchdowns. Only two players in Pac-10 history (Reuben Mayes of Washington State and Ricky Bell of USC) ever rushed for more yards in a single game. His total of 384 all-purpose yards that afternoon was the best mark in the country and a Pac-10 single-game record.

Drew finished the season as the team's leading rusher with 1,007 yards and eight rushing touchdowns. He also caught 18 passes for 262 yards and three more touchdowns. Drew returned 10 punts for a 15.2 yard average, including a 68-yard scoring dash against Stanford. He had seven kickoff returns for a 26.4 average.

2005 UCLA SPRING OUTLOOK

In 2003, he became the first freshman since DeShaun Foster (1998) to lead the team in rushing, his 582 yards ranking No. 3 in school history among true freshmen.

In addition, Drew also averaged 26.6 yards on 20 kickoff returns to rank second in the Pac-10 and 14th nationally. He recorded touchdown returns of 99 yards versus USC and 91 yards against Oklahoma.

Sophomore CHRIS MARKEY (5-11, 195) ran for 350 yards on 66 carries and a touchdown to rank third on the team as a true freshman. The Louisiana native returned 18 kickoffs for 399 yards and a 22.2 yard average, which ranked seventh in the Pac-10. Markey also caught eight passes on the year for 105 yards. His total of 854 all-purpose yards (77.6 avg.) ranked 17th in the Pac-10. He was named to The Sporting News' Pac-10 All-Freshman team.

Markey had a breakout game at Oregon. He started for the injured Drew and rushed for 131 yards and led the team with five receptions for 84 yards. In all, he accounted for 238 all-purpose yards and was named the Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week.

Markey had earned All-America honors at Jesuit High in New Orleans, where he rushed for 2,745 yards as a prep senior in 2003, the most ever by a prep back in the New Orleans area.

Redshirt sophomore DERRICK WILLIAMS (5-10, 203), another talented runner, saw limited action in 2004. More of a power runner, he carried twice against San Diego State. On special teams, he forced a fumble on a kickoff versus California and recorded his first kickoff return at Arizona State. Williams, a Super Prep All-American from St. John Bosco High School in Bellflower, CA ran for 1,104 yards in 2002.

Redshirt sophomore MICHAEL PITRE (5-11, 232) from El Modena High School in Orange, CA, was one of the pleasant surprises a year ago, winning the fullback job in Fall camp. Pitre, who missed all of the 2003 season with a neck condition, established himself as an outstanding blocker, clearing the way for the Bruin tailbacks. He appeared in 11 games and earned honorable mention All-Pac-10 honors. Pitre caught 10 passes for 128 yards and a touchdown and carried twice for four yards.

Third-year sophomore JIMMY STEPHENS (6-2, 235) will compete for playing time behind Pitre. A year ago, Stephens made steady progress while seeing limited game action. Several walk-ons could add depth at the running back positions, including redshirt junior KRIS KILEY (6-0, 232), redshirt sophomore BEN IDEMUNDIA (6-0, 222) and redshirt freshman JUSTIN SIEBER (5-11, 190).

"We return some quality performers in our backfield," said Dorrell. "Our running attack was much improved in 2004 and can be even better in 2005.

"Maurice is an exciting player to watch and he is only going to get better. Drew, Markey and Pitre give us experience in the backfield and we expect Jimmy and Derrick to provide quality depth."

WIDE RECEIVER

This area has a mixture of experience and potential. The coaching staff will be looking to identify players on the rise as Spring drills get underway.

True senior JUNIOR TAYLOR (6-1, 198) tied for second on the team with 32 receptions and 463 receiving yards (14.5 avg.) while starting in 11 games last season. His average of 38.6 yards per game ranked 19th in the Pac-10 while his 2.67 receptions per game ranked T-22nd. He recorded two touchdown catches, a 29-yard scoring grab in the Las Vegas Bowl and an 83-yard catch-and-run at Oregon, the seventh-longest in school history. His 70 career receptions rank 21st on the all-time school list.

Blessed with fine speed, Taylor scored a touchdown the first time he touched the football as a Bruin on a 49-yard reverse. In 2003, he started two of his 13 games and ranked third on the squad in receiving yardage (302) and fourth with his 24 receptions.

True junior JOE COWAN (6-4, 211) caught 13 passes for 228 yards and one touchdown a year ago. He made two starts in 2004 and led the team with five catches for 95 yards at California, including a 46-yard scoring grab. Cowan, who reminds some observers of former standout Danny Farmer, will look to take the next step and begin to expand his role on the team beginning this Spring.

Two true sophomores, MARCUS EVERETT (6-1, 186) and BRANDON BREAZELL (6-0, 154), will each look to take advantage of the experience they gained as freshmen when both players earned starting assignments. Everett started four games in 2004 and finished the year with nine catches for 110 yards. He made four catches against Arizona for 45 yards and two first downs. Everett earned All-America honors at West Hills (CA) Chaminade High, making 61 catches for 1,359 yards and 16 touchdowns in 2003 as a prep senior. Breazell started the San Diego State game. He made two receptions for 15 yards in 2004, both in the contest at California. In 2003, Breazell earned All-Region acclaim while making 57 receptions for 1,043 yards and 16 touchdowns as a senior at Edison High in Fresno, CA.

Two redshirt sophomores will also be competing for playing time at the receiver positions. MATTHEW SLATER (5-11, 192) saw limited action last season, but is a hard worker. He spent the 2003 season practicing with the regulars, although he never appeared in a game. In 2002, Slater, who possesses sprinter speed, made 39 receptions for 707 yards as a prep senior at Servite High School in Orange, CA in 2002. ALEX GHEBRESELASSIE (6-2, 183) also has upside and will be looking to break into the rotation this season. A 2002 Prep Star All-American at Bonita Vista High School in Chula Vista, CA, he averaged close to 20 yards per catch during his prep career.

Redshirt freshman RYAN GRAVES (6-1, 164) worked with the scout team last season. As a prep senior in 2003, he made 62 receptions for 1,271 yards and 15 touchdowns and earned All-America acclaim.

2005 UCLA SPRING OUTLOOK

Redshirt junior ANDREW BAUMGARTNER (6-0, 195), redshirt junior transfer JOSH MARTIN (5-11, 185), and redshirt freshman STEVE MELTON (5-11, 187) — all walk-ons — will also compete for playing time this Spring.

"Junior has made some big catches for us," Dorrell said. "He has the speed to create and go the distance and he also makes the tough catch. He started to take his game to another level during the latter half of the season and we need him to continue that progression. Joe, Marcus and Brandon each now have enough experience under their belts to use this Spring to show they are ready to become a go-to type of receiver. We will be closely monitoring their improvement and anticipate them being ready to make a statement.

"I am excited about the overall potential of our young receivers and we are looking forward to helping them to further develop throughout this Spring."

TIGHT END

The Bruins welcome back perhaps the best returning player at his position in the nation in senior tight end MARCEDES LEWIS (6-6, 255). Lewis was one of three finalists last season for the John Mackey Award, presented annually to the premier tight end in the country. He is the lone returnee among the finalists.

Lewis led the Bruins with seven touchdown catches in 2004. He caught 32 passes overall, tied for second on the team in that category, for 402 yards. In addition, Lewis produced a team-best 25 first downs with his receptions. His 32 receptions last season ranked fifth-best among Bruin tight ends since 1980.

Lewis' 11 career touchdown catches stand as a UCLA record by a tight end. He ranks No. 4 on UCLA's career tight end receiving list and is 23rd overall on the school career receptions list.

In 2003, he ranked second to Craig Bragg with 30 receptions for 377 yards and three touchdowns. In 2001, Lewis was regarded as the top high school tight end in the nation and made 44 receptions for 710 yards and 11 touchdowns for the CIF Division I champions from Long Beach Poly.

Fifth-year senior KEITH CARTER (6-4, 246) adds valuable depth to the position. He appeared in all 12 games last season but did not make a reception. During 2003 Spring Practice, he suffered a dislocated and fractured right hip in a motorcycle accident. It appeared that he might return near the end of the '03 season, but additional surgery ended that hope. In 2002, Carter earned extensive playing time in each of the last 10 games (four starts) as both a second tight end and fullback/H-back, making five receptions.

Redshirt junior J.J. HAIR (6-5, 242) saw action in nine games last season, making two receptions for 15 yards and performing well as a blocker. In his final two seasons (2000 and 2001) at Capistrano Valley High, Hair totaled 43 receptions for over 700 yards and three touchdowns.

Senior transfer MATT RANEY (6-3, 239) will also look to get in the mix as a reserve tight end. As a sophomore at Phoenix College in 2003, he made 27 receptions for 402 yards and was rated the No. 10 junior college tight end in the nation.

WILL PEDDIE (6-5, 252), a fourth-year junior walk-on, saw his first career action last season and will also compete for playing time.

"Mercedes Lewis made marked improvement in all areas last season," Dorrell said. "He began to put it all together and started to get the most out of all of his considerable tools. With another year of hard work, he is capable of having an even better season this year.

"Keith gives us an experienced player behind Mercedes that we can rely on for a steady performance. We will continue to work with J.J., Matt and Will to give us more options at the position."

OFFENSIVE LINE

Offensive line coach Tom Cable employs a system using strong and weak side performers as opposed to left and right side players. That system helped the Bruins to double its total rushing yardage in a season's time. It produced a school record 322 yard rushing game by Maurice Drew at Washington and lowered by over 30 the number of sacks surrendered from the 2003 to 2004 season. In addition, five players who started games in 2004 return for the 2005 season.

Redshirt senior ED BLANTON (6-9, 345), a two-year starter had a string of 22 straight starting assignments snapped when injury forced him to come off the bench at Oregon. After playing weak tackle in 2004, he will switch to the strong side during Spring Practice. Blanton possesses outstanding size and has worked hard to improve his strength and footwork over the years. He is ready for a big season.

Redshirt senior center MIKE MCCLOSKEY (6-5, 274) is one of the best in the nation at his position. A year ago, UCLA rushed for at least 200 net yards in six of the 10 games in which he played and McCloskey earned second-team All-Pac-10 honors. In 2002, he won the starting center job in Fall camp and never relinquished it, starting all 13 games and earning second-team Freshman All-America honors for his efforts. In fact, he started 18 straight games prior to fracturing his left ankle against Washington in the fifth game of 2003.

Third-year junior ROBERT CHAI (6-3, 275) stepped in for McCloskey at center in 2003 and started the final eight games of the year. He also started two games in 2004 in place of McCloskey. However, Chai will miss Spring Practice after undergoing knee surgery following the season.

True sophomore SHANNON TEVAGA (6-3, 303) spent most of the first six weeks playing on the FG-PAT squad before moving into the starting lineup at strong guard at Arizona State (game seven). He did a fine job and went on to start the final six contests of the 2004 season. He earned third-team Freshman All-America honors and first-team Freshman All-Pac-10 acclaim from The Sporting News.

Fifth-year senior ROBERT CLEARY (6-7, 299) figures to be a candidate for a starting guard position. Last year, he earned a starting assignment in Fall camp and made his first career start at weak guard in the season-opener against Oklahoma State. He started the first six games of the season before assuming a role as a key reserve versus Arizona State. He also started at Oregon.

Redshirt sophomore BRIAN ABRAHAM (6-6, 279), a former prep All-American, is one of several young linemen who figures to battle for playing time and a possible starting berth. Abraham played on the PAT-FG team last season and saw limited snaps with the offense against Stanford, Arizona and Washington State.

True sophomore CHRIS JOSEPH (6-4, 267) impressed the coaching staff during last year's Fall camp and will compete for playing time at tackle. He played on the PAT-FG team in the first five games of 2004 before he suffered a partially torn knee ligament in practice. Joseph, who also played some offensive snaps against Arizona, is not expected to be ready to take part in full practices during the Spring.

Redshirt sophomore P.J. IRVIN (6-4, 304) saw his first game action in 2004 against Arizona. He is expected to battle for playing time at the guard spots. He earned 2002 All-America acclaim, from PrepStar magazine, at Agoura High School.

Redshirt freshman AARON MEYER (6-3, 285) caught the attention of the coaches while performing on the scout team in 2004 and will also get a long look at the guard positions. Redshirt freshman SCOTT GLICKSBERG (6-4, 263) spent last season as a scout team player on both sides of the ball. This Spring, he will compete for playing time at offensive guard. Redshirt sophomore transfer MARC VILLAFUERTE (6-3, 305) also figures to see action at guard after redshirting in 2004, following his transfer from Santa Ana College.

Redshirt sophomore NOAH SUTHERLAND (6-4, 262), a converted defensive lineman who saw action in eight games a year ago, will get his first chance on the offensive side of the ball (guard) during Spring practices.

Several non-scholarship players, including redshirt sophomore center BRIAN RUBINSTEIN (5-11, 262), redshirt sophomore JAMAAL RHODES (6-3, 318) and redshirt freshman MICAH REED (6-4, 294) will also be in the mix.

"This was a priority area for us last season and it responded well to the challenge," said Dorrell. "Now, we must continue to build on the positives from last season. We did a much better job in protecting our quarterback and clearing the way for our running backs. I believe that with several players having starting experience and a full season under their belts playing in coach Cable's system, we are capable of being even more effective as a unit.

"Mike and Ed have been multiple-year starters for us and will anchor the line. Shannon came on last season to give us a very solid effort, especially for a true freshman. Cleary is a hard worker and took advantage of an opportunity to insert himself in the starting lineup in 2004. We will take a long look at several young players this Spring who will need to step up for us in 2005."

DEFENSE

A young defense showed steady improvement as its gained experience in 2004. That experience factor will be counted on to help produce improved results on the field during the 2005 campaign.

DEFENSIVE LINE

The 2004 season began without a single defensive lineman having a starting assignment to his credit. A total of 14 linemen saw the action during the course of the season. For 10 of those 14 players, it marked the first game experience of their UCLA careers.

True junior KEVIN BROWN (6-2, 285), who possesses both strength and quickness, made his first career start on the defensive line in the opener against Oklahoma State and recorded a career-best five tackles. Brown went on to lead all defensive linemen with 25 tackles from his tackle position. His five sacks led the team and his 8.5 tackles for loss tied for the team lead in that category as well. As a true freshman in 2003, Brown was contributing regularly on the defensive line when, for the good of the team, he agreed to move to offensive guard. He started the same week as the move and ended up starting three games on offense at the end of the season.

At the left end position, senior transfer KYLE MORGAN (6-3, 254) saw action in all 12 games a year ago, starting 10 times. Strong and athletic, Morgan, who starred at Pearl River College in Poplarville, MS, and was rated the No. 5 junior college defensive end in the nation, tied for second among the linemen with his 24 tackles. He recorded 17 solo stops, 3.5 tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks. Morgan finished the year with a career-best five tackles in the Las Vegas Bowl.

True junior JUSTIN HICKMAN (6-1, 260), who made 60 tackles in 2003 at Glendale (AZ) College, appeared in 10 games and started eight times in 2004. He totaled 22 tackles, four tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks. He was the only lineman to start the first five games of the year, the first two at left end and the rest on the right side. He then underwent surgery on his left knee and missed two games. Hickman came back against Washington State and went on to start against Oregon, USC and Wyoming.

Fourth-year senior C.J. NIUSULU (6-2, 280) is the most experienced of the linemen. He was set to make his first start in the 2004 opener, but was sidelined by a knee injury. He went on to appear in nine contests and start seven times. Niusulu totaled 24 tackles (tied for second among the linemen), 2.5 tackles for loss and 0.5 sacks. A strong, aggressive performer, he saw extensive action as the first tackle off the bench in 2003. He appeared in all 13 games and accounted for 26 tackles, including 5.0 for losses.

True sophomore BRIGHAM HARWELL (6-1, 259) will again contend for playing time and starting assignments at defensive end. Harwell, who has tremendous potential, played in all 12 games in 2004, starting four times. On the year, he registered 22 tackles and 2.5 tackles for loss. He started for the first time at California and made five tackles. Against Washington State, he started and scored UCLA's first touchdown of the game when he recovered a fumble in the end zone. Harwell recorded 68.5 career quarterback sacks at Los Altos High as a prep senior in 2003.

Redshirt sophomore BRUCE DAVIS (6-3, 240) made his first collegiate start in his first college game against Oklahoma State in 2004. He also started at Illinois before coming off the bench in the final 10 games of the season. Davis finished with 17 tackles, 3.5 tackles for loss and was second on the team with 2.5 sacks. The son of Bruce Davis, Sr., who played for UCLA from 1975-78, he came to Westwood from Clear Creek High School in League City, TX. He should compete for playing time at right end during Spring drills.

Redshirt sophomore WILLIAM SNEAD (6-4, 228) shifted to defensive end from linebacker last season and appeared in all 12 games as a key reserve. Snead made six tackles, including one sack, in 2004. As a prep senior at Skyline High in Oakland, CA in 2002, he earned All-Region acclaim while making 96 tackles, including 11 sacks and 36 tackles for losses.

True sophomore CHRIS JOHNSON (6-3, 293) figures to compete for playing time at the defensive tackle spots. Johnson played in the final nine contests of the year, making his debut against San Diego State game. He totaled five tackles on the year, including one sack and one tackle for loss. Johnson earned All-Region honors at John Curtis Christian High in River Ridge, LA in 2003.

True sophomore KENNETH LOMBARD (6-1, 280) saw extensive action at defensive tackle in the 2004 opener against Oklahoma State. He then started at Illinois, becoming the first true freshman defensive lineman to start a game since Ken Kocher and Anthony Fletcher each did it in the 1999 Rose Bowl against Wisconsin. Lombard also started the game at Washington, but suffered a shoulder injury that sidelined him for the remainder of the season and required surgery in December. It is expected that he will be granted a substitute year of eligibility for medical hardship by the Pacific-10 Conference this Spring. Lombard, a prep All-American, made 68 tackles as a high school senior at St. John Bosco in 2003.

Redshirt sophomore NIKOLA DRAGOVIC (6-3, 249) saw action in nine games at defensive end in 2004. He had five tackles, including one sack and one tackle for loss. Dragovic who spent the 2003 season on offense working on the line and at fullback, is again expected to compete for playing time at end.

Redshirt junior KEVIN HARBOUR (6-4, 255) underwent reconstructive knee surgery (torn ACL in his left knee) on May 12, 2004 and did not appear in a game last season. He has been cleared to participate in Spring practices and will battle for playing time at both the end and tackle positions. He saw limited snaps in five contests at defensive end in the 2003 season.

Redshirt freshman NATHANIEL SKAGGS (6-4, 257) did an outstanding job on the scout team after switching from offense to defense a year ago and could be earning playing time at defensive tackle in 2005. A number of walk-ons — redshirt sophomore SCOTT KEARNEY (6-1, 281), redshirt sophomore PHILIP RAUSCHER (6-4, 265), redshirt freshman

TRAVIS MARTIN (6-4, 226) and redshirt juniors MARKO DRAGOVIC (6-2, 246) and BRIAN RUZIECKI (6-3, 270) could also be in the mix.

"The defensive line was almost completely rebuilt last season. Our young men proved they were up to the challenge and showed steady improvement over the course of the year. We expect that year of experience will lead to better consistency in 2005," said Dorrell.

"Our tackles will be much improved. Kevin was making plays on a consistent basis toward the end of 2004 and could become a big-play defender for us. C.J. was solid, but is capable of much more. Chris came on as the season progressed and earned playing time down the stretch. Kenneth and Kevin are both coming off of injuries and we will look to evaluate their progress in the Spring.

"The end positions took shape during the season with Kyle, Justin and Brigham emerging as the leaders. Bruce, William and Nikola each had their moments and showed plenty of promise last season. We will look carefully to gauge the level of improvement each of these players will make during the Spring."

LINEBACKER

UCLA returns all three starters from a year ago at the linebacker positions.

Senior inside linebacker SPENCER HAVNER (6-4, 236), a three-year starter, led the Pac-10 in tackles last season with 125 stops. He tied for the team lead with 8.5 tackles for loss, including one sack. He recorded two interceptions, returning one pick for a touchdown against San Diego State. His 125 tackles in 2004 ranked 10th (tied) on UCLA's single-season list. Havner's career tackle total of 303 ranks 11th on that list and he is 21st on the career tackle for loss (27.0) list. A 17-tackle performance at Illinois was the best by a Bruin since Robert Thomas totaled 18 stops at Washington State in 2001.

Havner earned first-team All-America acclaim from cbssportsline.com and collegefootballnews.com after ranking among the national leaders in tackles for most of the season (he finished second in the nation in solo tackles-7.64 and T-seventh in total tackles-11.36). He was named second-team All-America by the Walter Camp Football Foundation. Havner was one of 12 semifinalists for both the Butkus and Rotary Lombardi Awards in 2004.

Havner moved inside after playing the outside position in 2003. That year, he ranked third on the squad with 82 tackles, including 6.5 for losses. He tied for the team lead with three interceptions and he also blocked two field goals. A first-team Freshman All-America selection in 2002, he made 96 tackles and returned two of his three interceptions that season for touchdowns to tie an NCAA record for linebackers.

True senior inside (middle) JUSTIN LONDON (6-1, 235) sprained his right ankle in Fall camp and was not at full strength until the middle of the 2004 season. A dynamic combination of speed, quickness and power, London saw action in 10 games, starting eight times. He finished the year tied for fourth on the team with 57 tackles, including 44 in the final five games. London was third on the team in tackles for loss, with seven, and added two sacks.

In 2003, he started eight games and ranked second on the squad with 98 tackles. His average of 7.5 tackles per game ranked eighth in the Pac-10. He tied for second on the team with 8.5 tackles for losses and also tied for the team lead with three interceptions.

Senior WESLEY WALKER (6-3, 222) appeared in all 12 games last season, starting 11 contests, while seeing action at both inside and outside linebacker spots. He tied for fourth on the team with 57 tackles and had 5.5 tackles for loss (fifth on the team) and 1.5 sacks (tied for fourth). A good all-around athlete, he appeared in all 13 games in 2003 and made 15 tackles as a key reserve.

Redshirt sophomore AARON WHITTINGTON (6-2, 195) competed with Walker for playing time on the outside position in 2004. He saw action in eight contests and started the Illinois game, registering a season-best eight tackles. He finished the year with 18 tackles and was named to The Sporting News All-Pac-10 Freshman team. This Spring, he will compete for playing time at an inside linebacker position behind Havner.

Junior DANNY NELSON (6-1, 239), a transfer from Arizona Western College, saw action in eight games in 2004. He started the season-opener against Oklahoma State at the middle inside linebacker spot in place of London and made seven tackles. On the year, Nelson totaled 12 tackles. He suffered a fractured left clavicle against Stanford (game eight) and missed the remainder of the year. He earned JC All-America honorable mention in 2003.

True sophomore FRED HOLMES (6-1, 231) figures to compete with Walker for playing time at outside linebacker. Holmes, a standout on special teams, appeared in 11 contests last season, missing only the bowl game. He totaled six tackles, including one tackle for loss. He was an All-Southeast selection at John Curtis Christian High in River Ridge, LA as a prep senior in 2003.

Redshirt sophomore CHRISTIAN TAYLOR (6-0, 210), will also compete for playing time. A non-scholarship transfer from the Air Force Academy, Taylor played well on the scout team a year ago. Two walkons, redshirt freshmen JAMEL GREER (6-0, 228) and NICKY RODRIGUEZ (5-10, 215), will attempt to add depth at the position.

"Linebacker is a position of experience among the starters but not much depth," said Dorrell. "All three starters had off-season arthroscopic procedures and will be limited during Spring Practice. A return to health and a measure of consistency will go a long way to making our defense much better in 2005. We would like to see some of the younger players take a step up during Spring Practice to help us develop some depth."

SECONDARY

The Bruins return several players with experience in the secondary and will begin the process of looking to replace Ben Emanuel, a three-year starter at safety, and Matt Clark, a first-team All-Pac-10 cornerback, during Spring Practice. Both cornerback positions will be open for competition this Spring and with safety JARRAD PAGE (6-2, 220) playing for the Bruin baseball team, the competition for playing time at safety will also be interesting to watch.

Page (6-2, 220), a true senior, is set to start for the fourth straight season at strong safety after earning honorable mention All-Pac-10 honors last year. In 2004, he ranked second on the team with 79 tackles, including two tackles for loss. Page tied for the team lead with three interceptions and was second with seven pass break ups. He ranked T-17th in the Pac-10 in tackles (6.6) and T-12th in interceptions (0.25). He is once again playing baseball this Spring and will not participate in football practices.

In 2003, Page started all 12 games in which he played. He finished the year with 55 tackles, including 5.5 for losses, and tied for the team lead with three interceptions, returning one for a score. In 2002, he earned first-team Freshman All-America honors, becoming a starter in his fourth game as a Bruin. He started the final 10 games of the 2002 season, becoming the first UCLA true freshman safety since Kenny Easley to start that many games.

Redshirt sophomore CHRIS HORTON (6-1, 195) will get a long look at the vacated free safety spot during Spring Practice. He saw action in nine games a year ago and earned a reputation as a playmaker, both on defense and on special teams. Horton recorded 27 tackles, including 0.5 tackles for loss. He also had an interception and blocked two punts. As a prep senior in 2002, Horton was an All-Region selection and made over 100 tackles at De La Salle High School in New Orleans.

DENNIS KEYES (6-1, 192), another talented redshirt sophomore, will compete for playing time at strong safety. Keyes appeared in eight games in 2004 and recorded 10 tackles. A Super Prep All-American and the L.A. Daily News Player of the Year in 2002, Keyes made 88 tackles as a senior at Birmingham High School in Van Nuys.

Fourth-year junior ERIC McNEAL (6-2, 209) played in all 12 games as a reserve safety and special teams player a year ago. He finished ninth on the team with 28 tackles and had one interception while playing both safety and, in the nickel defensive packages, a linebacker/safety. In 2003, he earned most of his playing time on special teams but made seven tackles, including two for losses, in the Silicon Valley Classic.

True junior MIL'VON JAMES (6-0, 196) will compete for playing time at free safety during the Spring. James has seen most of his action during his first two seasons on special teams because of his speed and coverage ability. As a senior in 2002 at Los Angeles' Fremont High, he made over 95 tackles.

Redshirt sophomore TREY BROWN (5-10, 187) and true sophomore RODNEY VAN (6-1, 166) are expected to compete for playing time at one of the cornerback positions. Brown started the final five games of last season at the corner opposite Clark. He totaled 46 tackles (seventh on the team), including five tackles for loss. He also made two interceptions, returning one for a score at Oregon. In 2003, Brown was named the defensive scout team Player of the Year. The son of former UCLA standout running back Theotis Brown, he earned All-Region honors as a senior in 2002 at Blue Valley Northwest High School in Overland Park, KS.

Van saw action in all 12 games last season and totaled 12 tackles and one forced fumble. Although he saw most of his action on special teams, he had four tackles at California after playing most of the second half at cornerback. Van earned All-America acclaim while making 84 tackles at Long Beach's Poly High as a senior in 2003.

The battle at the other cornerback spot is expected to be between redshirt senior MARCUS CASSEL (6-0, 182), redshirt junior JEBIAUS BROWN (6-1, 183), true sophomore MICHAEL NORRIS (5-11, 175) and redshirt freshman BYRON VELEGA (5-10, 180).

Cassel, the most experienced of the candidates, started the seven games of 2004 at one converback position and has always been a steady contributor on special teams. He totaled 33 tackles a year ago and also recovered two fumbles. J. Brown, who has good physical tools, missed the 2003 season due to a concussion, and saw action in one game in 2004. Norris was an All-Area selection at Oakland's Skyline High as a senior in 2003. He appeared in all 12 games last season for the Bruins and utilized his speed on special teams, recording seven tackles. Velega, a prep teammate of Rodney Van at Long Beach Poly, earned All-Region honors while making 60 tackles and four interceptions as senior in 2003. He redshirted a year ago.

Two walkons, redshirt sophomore OLUKAYODE OREGDUGBA (6-1, 187), who was a regular on special teams, and CHARLIE SCHUH (6-1, 197) will each look to increase their role on the team during the Spring.

"Chris, Dennis, Eric and Mil'Von have each have shown plenty of promise and, with Jarrad missing Spring drills (baseball), now is their time to step up. We need to identify the best candidates for the cornerback positions and will open up both of these slots to competition. This will be an area of intense battles all through the Spring and perhaps even into Fall. Overall, we still need to raise our level of consistency in the secondary and that will certainly be a goal during this Spring," said Dorrell. "While we have yet to settle on a starter at either corner, I am excited about the strides several of our young defensive backs have made."

SPECIALISTS

Junior JUSTIN MEDLOCK (6-0, 185) has quickly established himself as one of the better kickers in the country. A semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award a year ago, he connected on 15 of 20 field goal attempts in 2004 and ranked second in the Pac-10 in field goal percentage (.750). He was the team's leading scorer (87 points) and ranked fourth in the Pac-10 in kick scoring (7.25) and field goals per game (1.25). He also became the first Bruin to boot two field goals of at least 50 yards in the same game and the first Bruin to kick three field goals of 50 or more yards in a season. Only John Lee, with four, has kicked more field goals of at least 50 yards in a career.

Medlock enters the season already in seventh place (tied) on UCLA's career field goal list (29). His career percentage of .744 is third among Bruins with at least 21 career field goals. He ranks 16th on the career scoring list with 155 points.

Redshirt junior RILEY JONDLE (6-3, 200) returns for his third straight season as the snapper for punts and field goals but the Bruins will be looking for a new holder due to the loss of punter Chris Kluwe.

Junior MAURICE DREW (5-8, 198) averaged 15.2 yards on 10 punt returns, a mark which would have led the Pac-10, but was two returns shy of qualifying. He also returned seven kickoffs for a 26.4 yard average. Sophomore CHRIS MARKEY (5-11, 195) had 18 kickoffs returns for 399 yards and his 22.2-yard average ranked seventh in the Pac-10.

The Bruins will be without Chris Kluwe who did a fine job the last two seasons as the punter. In 2004, he was a finalist for the Ray Guy Award as the top punter in the nation.

Redshirt freshman AARON PEREZ (6-2, 200) will replace Kluwe as the Bruin punter. A prep-All-American at Charter Oak High as a senior in 2003, he averaged 42.7 yards per kick and placed 11 kicks inside the 20-yard line.

"We tightened up our special teams play considerably last season and must keep improving this season," Dorrell said. "In Justin, we have an experienced placekicker who could be among the best in the country. We have dependable return men who have performed well in the past. We must use this Spring to establish our new punter and holder on placements."

#21 MAURICE DREW

TAILBACK

5-8, 198, Jr.

ANTIOCH, CA

DE LA SALLE HS

UCLA — Maurice has established himself as one of the most exciting and productive players in the nation and a candidate for All-America honors ... Possesses breakaway speed, superior balance and amazing leg strength ... In addition to being an outstanding tailback who catches the ball well out of the backfield, he also excels as a kickoff returner ... In his 24-game career, he has rushed for 1,589 yards (5.4 average) and 13 touchdowns ... He has scored 19 touchdowns overall, including three receptions, two kickoff returns and one punt return, and nine of those 19 touchdowns have measured at least 47 yards ... A year ago, he was second in the nation in all-purpose yardage (after eight games) when he suffered a sprained ankle in the first quarter against Washington State (game nine).

2004 — A powerful back with a breakaway burst of speed, the spectacular sophomore had an outstanding season ... On the year, Drew ranked fourth in the Pac-10 and 24th in the nation in all-purpose yards (146.0) despite leaving the Washington State game in the first quarter (after one carry) with a sprained ankle, sitting out the entire Oregon game and seeing limited action versus USC (two carries) ... His 384-yard effort at Washington was the nation's top total of the year ... He also had 222 yards vs. San Diego State and 221 against Stanford ... Drew ranked third in the Pac-10 in rushing with his average of 91.5 yards per game ... He also ranked seventh in the Pac-10 in scoring (6.55 points per game) ... He averaged 15.2 yards on 10 punt returns and would have ranked fourth in the Pac-10, but was two returns shy of qualifying ... Drew averaged 8.19 yards every time he touched the football (1,606 yards on 196 touches) ... He averaged 6.3 yards per rush and five of his eight rushing touchdowns were at least 47 yards (40.63 average, 325 yards), including runs of 62, 58 and 57 yards ... Overall, he scored 12 touchdowns -- eight rushing, three receiving and one on a punt return ... At the time of his injury, Drew ranked second in the nation and led the Pac-10 in all-purpose yards (179.75) ... He also ranked 16th in the NCAA and second in the Pac-10 in rushing with his average of 111.50 yards per game and 13th in the NCAA and second in the Pac-10 in scoring (9.00 points per game) ... Drew had nine plays of at least 40 yards (five runs, two receptions, one kickoff return and one punt return) and scored on seven of them ... He had 25 plays of at least 20 yards (13 runs, five receptions, six kickoff returns and one punt return), including nine touchdowns ... His 1,606 all-purpose yards in 11 games rank No. 4 on UCLA's single-season list ... He is the first player in school history to have at least 100 yards in all four all-purpose categories in the same season ... Drew was a second-team All-Pac-10 selection ... He was also the offensive winner of UCLA's Henry R. "Red" Sanders Award for Most Valuable Player.

He was also named Sports Illustrated's Five-Star Player and was selected Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week ... On his first carry of the game, he burst to the outside and raced 47 yards to tie the game at 7-7 ... On his second carry, with UCLA trailing 24-7 and 2:30 remaining in the first quarter, he raced 62 yards for his second score of the quarter ... On his fourth carry, a third-and-12 with 40 seconds left in the quarter, he sped 58 yards for his third touchdown ... In the first quarter alone, he rushed for 169 yards and three touchdowns on four attempts ... He gave the Bruins the lead for good (27-24) with 4:16 remaining in the half when he scooted around right end for a 15-yard touchdown ... He finished the half with 235 yards and four touchdowns on 13 attempts ... In the third quarter, he broke several tackles en route to his school-record fifth touchdown, a 37-yard run on the Bruins' first possession of the half ... Despite suffering calf cramps, he broke Foster's record on a two-yard run in the fourth quarter ... Late in the game, he helped the Bruins run over five minutes off the clock by picking up two first downs on third-down runs ... On the day, he had eight runs of at least 12 yards, 13 of at least five yards and only one for negative yardage and one for zero yards ... Against San Diego State, he led the Bruins in rushing with his third straight 100-yard game, finishing with 161 yards and one touchdown on 21 carries ... He had four double-figure runs and just two for negative yardage ... His touchdown, which measured 57 yards, gave UCLA a 7-3 lead and included a 360-spin, two broken tackles and a footrace to the end zone ... In addition, he made one reception for nine yards, returned one kickoff for 27 yards and returned three punts for 25 yards, giving him 222 all-purpose yards ... He also completed the first pass of his career for 47 yards to Michael Pitre ... Drew saw limited action against Arizona, carrying the ball just 11 times for 22 yards ... He also made one reception for 31 yards on UCLA's first scoring drive ... At California, he accounted for 128 all-purpose yards and two touchdowns ... In the second quarter, he tied the game at 14-14 when he took a screen pass and raced 27 yards for a score ... In the fourth quarter, he turned another screen into a 43-yard touchdown, his sixth of the year which measured at least 40 yards ... On the day, he made three receptions for 76 yards, rushed for a team-high 42 yards on 14 carries and added 10 yards on two punt returns ... At Arizona State, Drew had 118 all-purpose yards ... He rushed for 54 yards on 15 attempts, made three receptions for 23 yards, returned one kickoff for 22 yards and returned one punt for 19 yards ... TIGHT END

LAKWOOD, CA

LONG BEACH POLY HS

UCLA — Mercedes possesses great size and speed and could become a dominating player at his position ... One of three finalists for the John Mackey Tight End Award in 2004 and the only finalist returning for 2005 ... An All-America candidate who is probably the best receiving tight end in the nation ... Also has the ability to line up as a wide receiver to take advantage of his height ... Enters his senior season with 11 career touchdown receptions ... Already owns the UCLA record for career touchdown receptions by a tight end, breaking the mark of 10, set by All-American Tim Wrightman ... He has made 68 receptions in his career and ranks No. 4 on UCLA's career tight end receiving list ... The other five tight ends in the Top Six each went on to play in the NFL ... He ranks 23rd overall on UCLA's career receiving list.

2004 — The true junior, who is one of the nation's best at his position, thanks to a great combination of size, speed and athletic ability, was one of three finalists for the John Mackey Award, presented annually to the nation's top tight end ... He was selected second-team All-Pac-10 by the league's coaches ... On the year, he led the team with seven receiving touchdowns ... He tied for second on the squad with 32 receptions and was third with 402 receiving yards ... He averaged 12.6 yards per reception and produced a team-best 25 first downs to go with his seven touchdowns ... His 32 catches ranked fifth among Bruin tight ends since 1980 ... In the opener against Oklahoma State, Lewis made two receptions for 23 yards ... Both of his catches came on third down and both moved the chains, one on UCLA's first touchdown drive and one on the field goal drive at the end of the half ... At Illinois, he led the team with four receptions for 62 yards and one touchdown ... He made a 23-yard catch and run on UCLA's first play from scrimmage and a 16-yard reception on UCLA's first series of the second half, both drives that ended in touchdowns ... He also made a 15-yard scoring catch in the fourth quarter on which his second effort moved the ball into the end zone ... On the day, he produced three first downs ... At Washington, he made two receptions for 21 yards and one first down ... He made a key 19-yard reception on the Bruins' field goal drive that gave them a 37-31 lead ... Against San Diego State, he made one reception for nine yards ... Lewis had a breakout game in the win over Arizona, making six receptions for 99 yards and three touchdowns, tying his career high for receptions and setting new bests for yardage and touchdowns ... His touchdowns measured 16, 12 and 18 yards and he also had catches of 23 and 21 yards on scoring drives ... Dating back to 1965, his three touchdown receptions are the most by a Bruin tight end in a game ... All six catches produced first downs ... On the first touchdown (16 yards on third down), he tipped it, was hit, but stayed focused to regrab the ball for the score ... On his second touchdown (12 yards), he made the catch, bounced off a would-be tackler, regained his balance and forced his way into the end zone for a 23-3 lead ... His third scoring catch was on a 18-yard strike from Olson down the middle, again on third down ... He also made a reception with a defender draped all over him and another on which he leaped high in the air for the catch ... For his efforts, he was named the Mackey Committee National Tight End of the Week ... At California, he made four receptions for 22 yards and UCLA's first touchdown, a 15-yard strike from Drew Olson ... He also had two first downs ... At Arizona State, he made four receptions for 44 yards and his sixth touchdown of the year, a one-handed grab in the back right corner of the end zone ... His other three receptions resulted in first downs ... Against Stanford, he made one reception for 26 yards and a first down on UCLA's first touchdown drive ... Against Washington State, he made two receptions for 26 yards and two first downs ... On his second catch, good for 19 yards with over 8:30 left in the first half, he suffered a bruised tailbone and was unable to return to the game ... The following week at Oregon, he played limited snaps and did not make a reception ... Against USC, he made four receptions for 29 yards, including a four-yard touchdown grab with 2:20 remaining which brought the Bruins to within five points (29-24) ... Against Wyoming in the Pioneer PureVision Las Vegas Bowl, he made two receptions for 41 yards and two first downs.

2003 — Ranked second on the team in receptions (30), receiving yards (377) and touchdown receptions (3) ... Appeared in all 13 games and started eight contests ... Played at least 40 snaps on five occasions, including 74 at Stanford, 66 versus San Diego State and 64 against Washington ... Led all receivers with six catches in the season opener at Colorado ... Totaled 96 yards on the afternoon and made a 13-yard touchdown catch which put the Bruins ahead late in the third quarter ... He made a 38-yard catch on third-and-30 to set up his scoring grab ... Started in a two-tight end formation, but did not make a catch against Illinois ... Started in the double tight end formation at Oklahoma and made one reception for five yards before leaving with a shoulder injury ... Made two receptions against San Diego State for 24 yards ... Against Washington, he made two catches for 28 yards ... At Arizona, he made a key fourth-quarter catch for 15 yards on third down, good for a first down, to keep a drive alive ... Came off the bench against Cal and led Bruin receivers with four catches for 67 yards, including a 31-yard scoring grab ... All of his receptions produced first downs and two came on crucial third down situations ... Started in a double tight end formation against Arizona State and made one reception for 16 yards which helped to set up a Bruin touchdown ... Came off the bench at Stanford to make four catches for 36 yards ... Made four receptions at Washington State for 40 yards ... Started against Oregon and made two receptions for 20 yards, but missed the second half with a concussion ... #7 JUSTIN MEDLOCK

PLACE KICKER

6-0, 185, Jr.

FREMONT, CA

MISSION SAN JOSE HS

UCLA — In just two seasons, Justin has established himself as one of the better place kickers in the nation ... Entering his junior year, Medlock is already in seventh place (tied) on UCLA's career field goal list with 29 ... Medlock's career percentage of .744 is third among Bruins with at least 21 career field goals ... He ranks 16th on the school's career scoring list with 155 points ... Possesses a very strong leg ... Has also handled the kickoff chores for the past two seasons.

2004 — As a redshirt sophomore, Medlock was one of 20 semifinalists for the Lou Groza Award ... He was selected first-team All-Pac-10 by the league's coaches ... He was the co-winner of UCLA's Tommy Prothro Award for Outstanding Special Teams Player ... On the year, Medlock made 15 of 20 field goal attempts and 42 of 43 PATs ... He was the team's leading scorer with 87 points (7.25) and ranked second in the Pac-10 in field goal percentage (75.0), second in kick scoring (7.25), third in scoring (7.25) and fourth (20th in NCAA) in field goals (1.25) ... He became the first UCLA player to kick two field goals of at least 50 yards in the same game at Oregon ... He is also the first Bruin to kick three field goals of 50 or more yards in a season ... Only John Lee, with four, kicked more field goals of at least 50 yards in a career ... On Nov. 13 at Oregon, he converted two of three field goal attempts and all four PATs for 10 points ... In the third quarter, he tied his career best with a 52-yard kick ... With 2:08 remaining in the game, he connected from 50 yards out to give the Bruins an eight-point lead (34-26) ... He was named Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week ... In the regular-season finale against USC, he made one of two field goals (made from 43, missed from 39) and all three PATs for six points ... In the Pioneer PureVision Las Vegas Bowl, he made all three PAT attempts, but missed a fourth-quarter field goal attempt from 45 yards ... In the 2004 opener against Oklahoma State, he kicked two field goals and made both PATs ... In the third quarter, he kicked a 52-yard field goal, the longest of his career ... That kick tied for the fourth longest in school history and was the longest by a Bruin since 1997, when Chris Sailer kicked a school-record 56-yard field goal against Oregon ... Against Illinois, he was five of five on PATs, but did not attempt a field goal ... At Washington, his 20-yard field goal with 10:35 remaining in the game gave UCLA a six-point lead (37-31) and forced the Huskies to score a touchdown to win ... He also converted four of five PATs, missing an extra point kick for the first time in his career when his second attempt bounced off the left upright ... Against San Diego State, he set a career high with four field goals (22, 40, 43, 44) on four attempts, the most by a Bruin since Nate Fikse kicked five against Stanford in 2002 ... His first two, in the second quarter, gave the Bruins a 20-3 halftime lead ... He also converted all three PATs for a career-best 15 points ... He was selected Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week for his efforts ... Against Arizona, he converted all five PAT attempts and did not try a field goal ... At California, he made all four PATs, but did not attempt a field goal ... At Arizona State, he made field goals of 40 and 48 yards, the latter with no time left in the first half, and converted all four of his PATs for 10 points ... Against Stanford, he made all three PATs, but missed his first two field goals of the year (51 and 38 yards) ... Against Washington State, he made all three of his field goal attempts (27, 47, 47) and both PATs for 11 points.

2003 — Served as the Bruin place kicker for all 13 games ... Named to The Sporting News Pac-10 All-Freshman team ... Team's leading scorer with 68 points ... His 5.23 scoring average placed him 11th in the conference ... Ranked fourth in the Pac-10 in field goals per game (1.08) and in field goal percentage (.737) ... Converted all 26 PATs and made 14 of 19 field goals with a long of 48 yards ... His 14 field goals rank 12th on the all-time single-season list at UCLA ... Made his career debut at Colorado and made both PATs, but was wide on a 35-yard field goal attempt ... Two of his three kickoffs reached the end zone and the third was returned just 20 yards ... Made field goals from 28 and 48 yards in the 6-3 win over Illinois ... Two of his three kickoffs reached the goal line ... Tied his career long with a 48-yard field goal at Oklahoma ... Made field goals of 27 and 24 yards against San Diego State ... Made a 39-yard field goal in the Washington game ... At Arizona, he made a 32-yard field goal in the first quarter to increase his streak to seven in a row, but missed from 35 yards in the fourth quarter ... Against Cal, he kicked what proved to be the game-winning field goal in the first overtime ... He converted both PATs (a third was unsuccessful because of a fumbled snap) ... Against Arizona State, he made field goals of 41 and 44 yards and added two PATs ... The second goal gave UCLA a seven-point lead in the fourth quarter ... At Stanford, he made both PATs, but did not attempt a field goal ... Converted both of his field goal attempts (46 and 32) at Washington State ... Made two (35 and 37 yards) of four field goals against Oregon ... Missed from 44 and 32 yards, hitting the upright with one attempt ... Did not attempt a field goal against USC ... Missed his only field goal attempt, a 47-yarder on a wet field, in the bowl game against Fresno State.

UCLA — Drew enters his senior season as the returning starter and has gained valuable experience during the last three years ... However, he suffered a left knee injury in the Pioneer PureVision Las Vegas Bowl and underwent surgery to repair the anterior cruciate and medial collateral ligaments on January 7, 2005 ... He will not be available to participate on the field during Spring practices ... His status for Fall camp is undetermined ... Olson has completed 422 passes during his 33-game career (26 starts) ... That total ranks No. 4 in UCLA history ... In addition, his 5,334 passing yards rank No. 5 on that UCLA list ... He also ranks No. 7 in career total offense (5,174 yards) ... Demonstrated a higher level of command of the offense last year ... Worked extremely hard in the 2004 off-season to improve his understanding of coverages as well as his strength and agility ... Possesses the ability to process information quickly, throws accurately and is poised in the pocket.

2004 — The starter in all 12 games, Olson completed 196 of 341 passes (57.5) for 2,565 yards, 20 touchdowns and 13 interceptions (four on deflections) ... He ranked fifth in the Pac-10 and 36th in the NCAA in total offense (222.6 yards), sixth in the Pac-10 in passing (213.8 yards), and fourth in the Pac-10 and 40th in the NCAA in passing efficiency (132.39 rating) ... In the Pac-10, his average of 13.09 yards per completion was first among players with at least 100 completions and his completion percentage of 57.48% was fourth ... Olson threw 20 touchdown passes, putting him fifth on that UCLA single-season list ... Only Cade McNown (25 in 1998 and 24 in 1997), Troy Aikman (24 in 1988) and Tom Ramsey (21 in 1982) have thrown for more touchdowns in a season ... His 2,671 yards of total offense rank sixth on that single-season list ... In Olson's last seven regular-season games, he completed 134 of 226 passes (59.29%) for 1,729 yards, 15 touchdowns and eight interceptions ... Olson's eight touchdown passes in a two-game span tied the UCLA record for most TD passes in a two-game span (Wayne Cook threw four against BYU and four against Washington in 1993) ... Olson totaled 10 scoring passes in a three-game span (the record is 11 by Cook, 3-4-4) ... In the opener against Oklahoma State, the true junior completed 16 of 36 passes for 252 yards ... He completed passes to six different receivers, including seven to wide receivers, seven to running backs and two to tight ends ... He also had two fourth-quarter interceptions, both on tipped passes ... His 57-yard pass play to Maurice Drew in the fourth quarter was the longest of his career at the time ... He enjoyed an outstanding afternoon at Illinois throwing three touchdown passes (41 and 14 yards to Craig Bragg and 15 yards to Mercedes Lewis) ... On the day, he completed 14 of 21 passes for 208 yards with one interception (tipped pass) ... He led UCLA on scoring drives of 96 and 65 yards on its first two possessions to build a first-quarter lead of 14-0 ... He also had a career-long 29-yard run and finished with 29 net rushing yards ... At Washington, the site of his first career start in 2002, he helped rally the Bruins from a 24-7 deficit ... On the afternoon, he completed 12 of 17 passes for 122 yards and one interception on a deflected pass ... In the second half, he completed nine of 10 passes, including his final seven, for 97 yards and five passing first downs ... Against San Diego State, Olson completed 14 of 29 passes to eight different receivers for 158 yards with one touchdown and one interception ... His 23-yard scoring strike to Tab Perry on third-and-16 gave UCLA a 27-3 lead on its first possession of the second half

... He also led the Bruins to a touchdown on their opening possession of the game ... In the second half, he completed seven of 10 passes (six of eight in third quarter) for 90 yards and one touchdown ... He was at his best in the win against Arizona ... With the running game not as effective as it had been, Olson completed 17 of 25 passes for 234 yards and a career-high four touchdowns with no interceptions ... Three of his five scoring drives measured at least 70 yards ... In the first half, he completed 10 of 13 passes for 148 yards and three touchdowns as UCLA built a 23-3 halftime lead ... With UCLA leading 2-0, Olson capped UCLA's opening possession with a pass to fullback Michael Pitre, who rambled 28 yards for the score ... Leading 16-3 with 5:03 remaining in the first half, Olson and the Bruins drove 95 yards to make the score 23-3, the final 12 yards coming on Mercedes Lewis' second touchdown reception ... In the third quarter, following an Arizona touchdown, he drove the Bruins 80 yards to make the score 30-10, throwing an 18-yard strike to Lewis for the score ... At California, Olson threw four touchdown passes for the second straight week, finding Mercedes Lewis for 15 yards, Maurice Drew for 27 and 43 yards and Joe Cowan for 46 yards ... The final TD pass brought the Bruins to within 10 points (38-28) with 2:39 remaining in the game ... On the afternoon, he completed 20 of 36 passes for 299 yards and four touchdowns with no interceptions ... He had five completions of at least 25 yards, including three of at least 40 yards ... At Arizona State, Olson rallied the Bruins from a 14-3 deficit to a 42-31 fourth-quarter lead ... On the afternoon, he completed 30 of 44 passes for a career-high 325 yards with two touchdowns and four interceptions ... He completed passes to 10 different receivers ... It was the second straight week he set a career best in passing yardage ... His second touchdown pass, a nine-yarder to Tab Perry, gave the Bruins the 42-31 lead ... The 30 completions rank No. 2 in UCLA history, topped only by Troy Aikman's 32 against USC in 1988 ... The 44 attempts tied for No. 7 on that list (Aikman attempted 44 vs. Washington State in 1988 and Steve Bono threw 44 passes vs. Oregon in 1984) and was the second-highest total of his career (he threw 49 passes against Oregon in 2003) ... The last time a Bruin threw for more yards was in 2002, when Cory Paus had 378 against Oregon State ... Against Stanford, the junior completed 17 of 28 passes for 177 yards with one touchdown and one interception ... Against Washington State, he completed 18 of 38 passes for 201 yards with two touchdowns and one interception ... Both touchdown passes came in the fourth quarter as the Bruins tried to rally from a 15-point deficit ... The second TD pass came with 42 seconds remaining in the game, but the Bruins were then unsuccessful on their two-point conversion pass attempt ... In the win at Oregon, he completed 12 of 21 passes for 215 yards and one touchdown ... He also scrambled for 59 yards with a net of 39 yards ... With the score tied at 7-7, he directed back-to-back touchdown drives of 68 and 94 yards to build a 21-7 lead ... Late in the third quarter, Olson and Junior Taylor connected on a slant pass that Taylor turned into an 83-yard touchdown, the seventh-longest pass play in school history ... Nursing a five-point lead (31-26) after an Oregon touchdown, Olson engineered a 12-play drive that used 5:34 and resulted in Justin Medlock's 50-yard field goal and an eight-point lead with just 2:08 remaining ... In the second half, Olson completed seven of nine passes, including his final six attempts, for 132 yards and one TD ... Against USC, Olson completed 20 of 34 passes for 278 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions ... He engineered second-half drives of 81 and 80 yards to pull the Bruins to within five points with 2:20 remaining in the game ... Against Wyoming in the Pioneer PureVision Las Vegas Bowl, he suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee in the second quarter ... He also had damage to his medial collateral ligament ... On the night, he completed six of 12 passes for 96 yards, including a 29-yard touchdown strike to Junior Taylor ... He finished the season having thrown at least one touchdown pass in each of the last nine games of the season.

2003 — Olson appeared in 12 games and was the starter in nine of those contests ... On the year, he completed 173 of 325 passes (53.2%) for 2,067 yards with 10 touchdowns and nine interceptions ... Ranked seventh in the Pac-10 in passing yards per game (172.2), ninth in total offense (157.2) and 10th in passing efficiency rating (111.27) ... His 173 completions ranked 12th on UCLA's single-season list ... He became the 14th Bruin to pass for more than 2,000 yards in a season and just the fourth sophomore, trailing only Tommy Maddox (2,681 in 1991), Cade McNown (2,424 in 1996) and Cory Paus (2,154 in 2000) ... Came off the bench against Colorado to replace an injured Matt Moore and completed 13 of 23 passes for 164 yards and two touchdowns ... His scoring tosses measured 42 yards to Craig Bragg and 13 yards to Mercedes Lewis ... Made the sixth start of his career against the Illini and completed 11 of 31 passes, with several drops, for 94 yards ... Completed 18 of 34 passes at No. 1-ranked Oklahoma for 144 yards ... In addition, quarterback Ben Olson, who will be a second-year freshman in the Fall, has already enrolled in school as part of this recruiting class.

Olson was the consensus No. 1 player in the class of 2002. He redshirted at BYU in 2002 and spent the last two seasons on a Mormon mission. He committed to head coach Karl Dorrell on Dec. 19 and began classes on Jan. 6.

Lanis was named to the Parade All-America team. Lanis, Oatis and Ware were selected to PrepStar's Dream Team. Lanis, Oatis and Ware were all selected to the SuperPrep All-America team.

"This is an outstanding, well-rounded class," said head coach Karl Dorrell. "We addressed several needs, including quarterback, tight end, linebacker and the secondary. This class is very athletic and many of our new Bruins have the ability and versatility to play more than one position.

"I feel this class is full of impact players and I would be surprised if several of them didn't make a significant contribution this season. We played 12 true freshmen this past season and if members of this class are ready to contribute, we will give them the opportunity to do so."

Of the 20 prep seniors, 15 are from California, three from Texas and two from Washington.

Sixteen of the 20 prep seniors, including the three members of the Dream Team, earned All-Region honors from PrepStar, including defensive end/outside linebacker Chinonso Anyanwu, running back Kahlil Bell, linebacker Reggie Carter, tight end Adam Heater, wide receiver/safety Gavin Ketchum, cornerback Robert Kibble, safety/wide receiver Bret Lockett, linebacker Korey Miller, linebacker Kyle Miller, tight end Ryan Moya, tight end Logan Paulsen, quarterback Osaar Rasshan and wide receiver Jamil Turner.

Fifteen of the 20 prep seniors, including the three All-Americans, were SuperPrep All-Region selections, including Anyanwu, Bell, offensive lineman Justin Brown, Carter, Heater, Ketchum, Lockett, Moya, Paulsen, Rasshan, Turner and defensive tackle Jess Ward.

Eleven of the seniors were selected to the Tacoma News-Tribune Western 100, including Carter, Heater, Ketchum, Lanis, Lockett, Moya, Oatis, Paulsen, Rasshan, Turner and Ware.

Twelve of the 15 California seniors were ranked among the Top 100 players in California by Scout.com, including Bell, J. Brown, Carter, Ketchum, Lanis, Lockett, Moya, Oatis, Paulsen, Rasshan, Ward and Ware. Ten of the California signees were ranked among the Top 100 players in California by rivals.com, including Anyanwu, Carter, Ketchum, Lanis, Lockett, Moya, Oatis, Paulsen, Rasshan and Ware.

Six California signees earned All-State honors, including two first-team selections – Lanis and defensive lineman Chase Moline – and four third-team selections – Bell, Ketchum, Oatis and Ware. Bell, Ketchum and Ware were first-team All-Small School selections.

Five new Bruins earned first-team All-CIF Southern Section honors – Ketchum, Moline, Oatis, Ward and Ware – and eight signees — J. Brown, linebacker John Hale, Ketchum, Moline, Oatis, Paulsen, Ward and Ware – earned first-team All-CIF Division acclaim. Carter and Lanis earned first-team All-L.A. City honors.
